

The liquor fine work continues to go on finely in Ohio. Almost every day the papers coming here inform us of legal suasion being enforced against doggerly keepers somewhere. In this way thousands of dollars of late have been contributed by these violators of divine and human laws, toward school funds, or to measurably compensate suffering families from this scourge. The way is now so clear that there seems little or no difficulty in teaching drunkard making sinners that the way of the transgressor is hard, and is becoming harder daily. When once the ball opens here we may look out for lively times, for there are a good many rods in pickle, almost matured, to apply to the guilty peddlers of Death & Co's poisons.

The rehol examination which took place last week, so far as we have heard an expression of opinion, gave general satisfaction to the large number of people in attendance, and was very creditable to the pupils for proficiency in the various branches of study. Prof. Jones, the superintendent, and his assistants aim to impart that thorough knowledge, without which all efforts in this direction are more or less futile. Nothing short of practical teaching is satisfactory to the earnest seeker after the mysteries of science, and in this respect our educational institutions are highly creditable. Our directors have been fortunate in securing the service of so efficient a superintendent, who is so well qualified to fill that position; and by his skilful government he has won the esteem of the large number of pupils under his charge. But we cannot pretend to give a general outline of what transpired, much as we may desire to do so, and as deserving as all concerned are of favorable mention. It must suffice to say that all performed their duty, teachers and pupils in the places assigned them, and when this is the case what more can be asked?

The following are the names of pupils who received diplomas, a portion of them having attained a high percentage in some of the more difficult branches of education: Misses Cora Dunn, Jennie Welker, Annie Riley, Millie Brown, Susie Long, and Ella Zerbe; Masters Frank Chidester and Eugene Willison. These young people having progressed to the prescribed extent, we suppose, in our union schools, will find that they have just laid the foundation for increasing wisdom, and the longer they live the more will they ascertain that no one can say in this respect, I have finished—I know all. While we live we can add to our stores of knowledge.

Mr. Hubbard, of Cuyahoga county, has introduced a bill into the lower house of the legislature to provide for erecting an inebriate asylum. The people of Ohio are taxed some thousands of dollars annually for deaf and dumb, blind and insane asylums, and they pay liberally, and without murmuring, to keep them up. The present condition of society seems to be not yet educated up to the point of averting these calamities, so far at least as to prevent their congenital occurrence; but in a high state of civilization it is claimed by many that these results can be avoided—over accidents we cannot have control. The unfortunate thus provided for are not grudgingly but cheerfully aided in their passage through life, and the humane of our state feel prepared rather to boast than to complain that they are taxed to aid the helpless classes here referred to. But the idea of an inebriate asylum—becoming daily more an indispensable institution in our state—how about that? Will our people cheerfully submit to the exaction of the tax gatherer to aid in keeping alive and maintaining at a heavy expense those who have been brought to this condition by following the inclinations of their perverted appetites, and helping to enrich some thousands of grog-sellers? Avarice and appetite are the prime causes for an inebriate asylum—nothing more or nothing less. Can not our civilization control these things, so as to prevent the necessity of another place of refuge for the helpless—made so by their voluntary acts, added to the enticements of heartless many makers? Over this sort of calamity, if our civilization fix what it should be, or claims to be, we should have perfect control, and if it is found indispensable to erect another house of refuge—and it looks that way decidedly—who are responsible? There is no shifting this on the dispensations of Providence. Dry up the grogshops, and no such asylum will be needed.

The young men who practice on the bells occasionally at St. Paul's Lutheran church are improving in their efforts, and will be able after a while to make it all right. It is only by practice that they can expect to succeed.

On Monday the 27th ult. Mr. Sumner delivered a powerful speech before the senate, some ten columns or three hours in length, against the annexation of San Domingo, and in criticism of the course of administration. Perhaps there is too much of personal invective by Mr. Sumner and by his opposers concerning this annexation business, but there is one thing pretty certain, and that is, the American people will favor Mr. Sumner's position in acquiring more territory, especially an island away off in the ocean. Let us govern well the territory we have—and there is vast room for improvement here—and we shall have quite enough to do, indeed much more than has been done yet. The president, in favoring this annexation scheme, we claim to be honest in his motives, but is he right? That is the main question. Mr. Sumner favored the purchase of Alaska, and there is where it seems to us that he erred.

Everything that a man wants at S. Loews. We suggest that it is rather dangerous for loose bricks, threatening to fall from the eaves of the world, to seem to be the case over one of the windows in the north end of the Opera House. Those having charge of that fine building, the proprietors, of course, have not observed this condition of things, for it requires advantageous observation to see have it is, or it would be this have been remedied.

Lots of Hags and caps at S. Loews. The Revolution, an earnest and efficient defender of woman's rights, is now and has been for some time, under the editorial control of Mrs. S. C. Willard, who, with the aid of correspondents and contributors, are making this weekly one of the most readable and ably conducted weeklies in this behalf in the country. It is meeting, we hope, with success—and the cause it favors is sure to prevail.

Boys Shoo Fly Coats at S. Loews. The absence of rain, and scarcely any snow of late, with a fair portion of sunshine and wind have dried up the streets and roads so that traveling generally is good.

A splendid line of Trunks at S. Loews. For some weeks after the first copy of the Golden Age, it failed to reach us, but it now visits us again, and Mr. Tilton and his co-workers continue to give it that interest which writers only of their ability can impart. Thus far the paper has been a success in every respect, and having safely passed the first month of its career we may regard it as an established institution.

Have you seen those new suits at S. Loews? The American Free Trade League has just issued a handsome printed sheet called the People's Petitionary Tax Paper. It is filled principally with words and signs—many of the latter very expressive and some would say witty—either in opposition to what is called protection, or tariff, or in favor of free trade. Whoever devised the emblems will pass for something of a wit, if not a strong reasoner.

Mr. Kennedy—a brother type—editor and proprietor of that excellent temperance paper at Chicago, the Home Circle, paid this place a visit one day last week. He is an earnest and persistent worker for the temperance cause, and reports a fair measure of success in the way of patronage for his valuable paper. It is just what we want.

REGULAR MEETING OF THE STARK CO. MED. SOCIETY.

On the 30th day of March, 1871, the society met at Canton in rooms of Y. M. C. A., the president occupying the Chair. Under the head of miscellaneous business, P. Pease and B. J. Dodge were admitted to membership. The following resolutions were passed: By L. M. Whiting, Resolved, That, in the recent action of the U. S. commissioner of pensions, in the discharge from the position of "Examining Surgeon" all Homeopaths and other irregular practitioners, this society recognizes the firm exercise of a discriminating power: such as the service requires. That uniformity in the subordinates of the pension bureau, as to rules for carrying out its orders is requisite, and to accomplish this they should be similarly qualified.

By J. E. Daugherty, Resolved, That this society hold its meetings on the first Thursday of each month hereafter instead of quarterly as heretofore.

By A. W. Ridgeway, Resolved, That if any member of this society, after being duly appointed by the Chair to deliver an address or an essay at any subsequent meeting, fail to comply, shall, unless a reasonable excuse be offered, be debarred from all participation in the proceedings of this society for one year.

The chair appointed the following gentlemen delegates to the American Medical Association: L. M. Whiting, A. Metz, to the State Medical Society L. M. Whiting, B. P. Johnson, and as alternates to the same: W. O. Baker, A. W. Hidenour. On motion by J. E. Daugherty, the society adjourned to meet at Massillon on the first Thursday in May, 1871.

A. M. WHITING, Canton, Pres. A. W. RIDGEWAY, Massillon, Sec.

MEDICAL CONVENTION—On Tuesday last week, the Homeopathic Medical Society, comprising members from the counties of Jefferson, Stark, Carroll and Columbiana, held their annual meeting at Dr. Rush's office, in Salem. Dr. Heaton, of Alliance, President of the Association, occupied the Chair. Minutes of last meeting read and approved. Election of officers for the ensuing year, resulted in the choice of Dr. Curtis, of Massillon Pres., Dr. Connel, of Canton, Vice Pres., Dr. Johnson, of Ravenna, Sec. and Treas., Drs. Parson, Shane and Nip part, Censors. Six papers were presented and read upon the different branches of medical science, and discussions allowed thereon. One paper on Climatology, (accompanied with map) by Dr. Curtis, was received too late for discussion. It contains some points, relative to the physical, mental and pathological growth of man, as controlled by climate. The society proposed a resolution inviting the State Medical Society to hold their annual meeting in Salem in 1872. After appointing delegates to the American Institute, which meets in Philadelphia in June, and State Medical Society in Cincinnati in May, the society adjourned to meet at Massillon in October next.

FINANCIAL.

New 7-30 Gold Loan

of the Northern Pacific Railroad Co.

Secured by first mortgage on railroad and land grant.

SAFE! PROFITABLE! PERMANENT J. COOKE & CO.

Offer for sale at par and accrued interest the first mortgage land grant bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad Company. They are free from United States tax, and are issued of the following denominations: Coupons $100, $50, and $10; Registered $10, $50, $100, $500, and $10,000.

With the same entire confidence with the mortgage government bonds to capitalists and people, we now, after the fullest investigation, recommend these Northern Pacific Railroad bonds to our friends and the general public.

Gold Payment.—Both the principal and interest are payable in American gold coin, at the office of J. Cooke & Co., New York, at the principal at the end of 30 years, and the interest (at the rate of seven and three-tenths per cent. per annum) half yearly, first of January and July.

Perfect Safety.—The bonds are now selling, are secured by a first and only mortgage on all the property rights of the Northern Pacific Railroad Co., which will embrace on the completion of the work:

1. Over two thousand miles of road, with rolling stock, buildings, and all other equipments. 2. Over twenty two thousand acres of land to every mile of finished railroad. This land, agricultural, timbered and unsettled, amounts in all to more than fifty million acres, consists of alternate sections, reaching twenty to thirty miles on either side of track, and extending in a broad belt from Wisconsin through the richest portions of Minnesota, Dakota, Montana, Idaho, Oregon and Washington to Puget Sound.

While the government does not directly guarantee the bonds of the road, it thus amply provides for their full and prompt payment by an unrivaled grant of land, the most valuable ever conferred upon a great national improvement.

The Mortgage.—The trustees under the mortgage, are Messrs. Jay Cooke of Philadelphia, and J. Edgar Thomson, president of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad Company. They will directly and permanently represent the interest of the first mortgage bondholders, and are required to see that the proceeds of land sales are used in purchasing and cancelling the bonds of the company if they can be bought before maturity at not more than 10 per cent. premium; otherwise the trustees are to invest the proceeds in land sales of United States Bonds of Real Estate Mortgages for the further security, at least 500 acres of average land to every $1,000 of outstanding first mortgage bonds, besides the railroad itself and all its equipments and franchises.

Profitableness.—Of course nothing can be said for the bonds of the United States, but the government is no longer a borrower, and as the nation's present work is not that of preserving its existence, but that of developing a continent, we remind those who desire to increase their income and obtain a more permanent investment, while they will directly and permanently represent the interest of the first mortgage bondholders, and are required to see that the proceeds of land sales are used in purchasing and cancelling the bonds of the company if they can be bought before maturity at not more than 10 per cent. premium; otherwise the trustees are to invest the proceeds in land sales of United States Bonds of Real Estate Mortgages for the further security, at least 500 acres of average land to every $1,000 of outstanding first mortgage bonds, besides the railroad itself and all its equipments and franchises.

Be satisfied to commence on a small scale. It is too common for young housekeepers to begin where their mothers ended. Buy all that is necessary to work skillfully with; adorn your home with all that will render it comfortable. Do not look at richer homes, and covet their costly furniture. It is a secret dissatisfaction is ready to spring up go a step further and visit the homes of the suffering poor; behold dark, cheerless apartments, insufficient clothing and absence of all the comforts of life, and then return to your own with a joyful spirit. You will then be prepared to meet your husband with a grateful heart, and be ready to appreciate the toil and self denial which he has endured in the business world to surround you with the delights of home; and you will co-operate cheerfully with him in so arranging your expenses that his mind will not be constantly harassed lest his family expenditures may encroach upon public payments.

Be independent, a young housekeeper never needed greater moral courage than she does now, to resist the arrangement of fashion. Do not let the A and B's decide what you shall have, neither let them hold the strings of your purse. You know best what you can and ought to afford. It matters but little what people think, provided you are true to yourself, to right and to duty, and keep your expenses within your means.

"I say, cap'n." said a little eyed man as he landed from the steamboat Natchez. "I say, cap'n, this 'ere ain't all." "That's all the baggage you brought on board, sir," replied the captain. "Well, see now, it is according to list—four boxes, three chests, two ban' boxes, a portmanteau, two hams (one part cut) three ropes of in yons, and a tea kettle; but I am dubious, I feel there's something short, though I've counted 'em nine times, and never took my eyes of 'em while on board; there's something not right some how." "Well, stranger, the time's up. There's all I know of; so bring up your wife and five children out of the cabin, and we're off." "Them's um! darn it!" he exclaimed "I knowed I'd forgot something."

Great Cause of Human Misery.
Just Published in a Sealed Envelope, Price six cents. A Lecture on the Nature, Treatment and Radical Cure of of Spermatorrhea, or Seminal Weakness, and urinary seminal losses, impotency, mental and physical incapacity, impediments to marriage, etc.; also, consumption, epilepsy, and fits, induced by self-indulgence or sexual extravagance.
The celebrated author, in this admirable essay, clearly demonstrates from a thirty years' successful practice that the alarming consequences of self-abuse may be radically cured without the dangerous use of internal medicine or the application of the knife; pointing out a mode of cure at once simple, certain, and effectual, by means of which every sufferer, no matter what his condition may be, may cure himself cheaply, privately and radically.
This lecture should be in the hands of every youth and every man in the land. Sent under seal, in a plain envelope, to any address, postpaid on receipt of six cents or two post stamps.
Also, Dr. Culverwell's "Marriage Guide," price 25 cents.

Eclectic Physician,
Has located himself at Massillon, O., for the treatment of Female & Chronic Diseases.
Office on Main street, four doors east of the American Hotel.
All consultations and examinations of patients made free of charge.
Dr. Long examines and explains your disease without asking any questions. If he understands your case you know it, and cannot be deceived. If he cannot tell your disease, and how you feel without asking questions he does not consider himself competent to treat your case. This is the criterion to go by, and patients should not be satisfied with any other. This is the only direct and positive evidence of my ability as a scientific physician, and by this standard I am willing to be judged.
A proper diagnosis of local disease, without constitutional symptoms, that is, not affecting the system generally, must depend upon the judgement of both patient and physician.
Give Dr. Long a call, and satisfy yourself whether he understands your cases sufficiently well to treat them successfully.

A proper diagnosis of local disease, without constitutional symptoms, that is, not affecting the system generally, must depend upon the judgement of both patient and physician.
Give Dr. Long a call, and satisfy yourself whether he understands your cases sufficiently well to treat them successfully.
Dr. Long may be consulted in the German and English languages. Address letters, JAMES LONG, M. D., Massillon, Ohio. 371-1y

Dr. J. LONG,
Eclectic Physician,
Has located himself at Massillon, O., for the treatment of Female & Chronic Diseases.
Office on Main street, four doors east of the American Hotel.
All consultations and examinations of patients made free of charge.
Dr. Long examines and explains your disease without asking any questions. If he understands your case you know it, and cannot be deceived. If he cannot tell your disease, and how you feel without asking questions he does not consider himself competent to treat your case. This is the criterion to go by, and patients should not be satisfied with any other. This is the only direct and positive evidence of my ability as a scientific physician, and by this standard I am willing to be judged.
